—for every room in the home

Globe-Wernicke

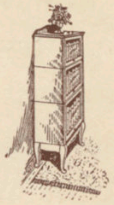
Sectional

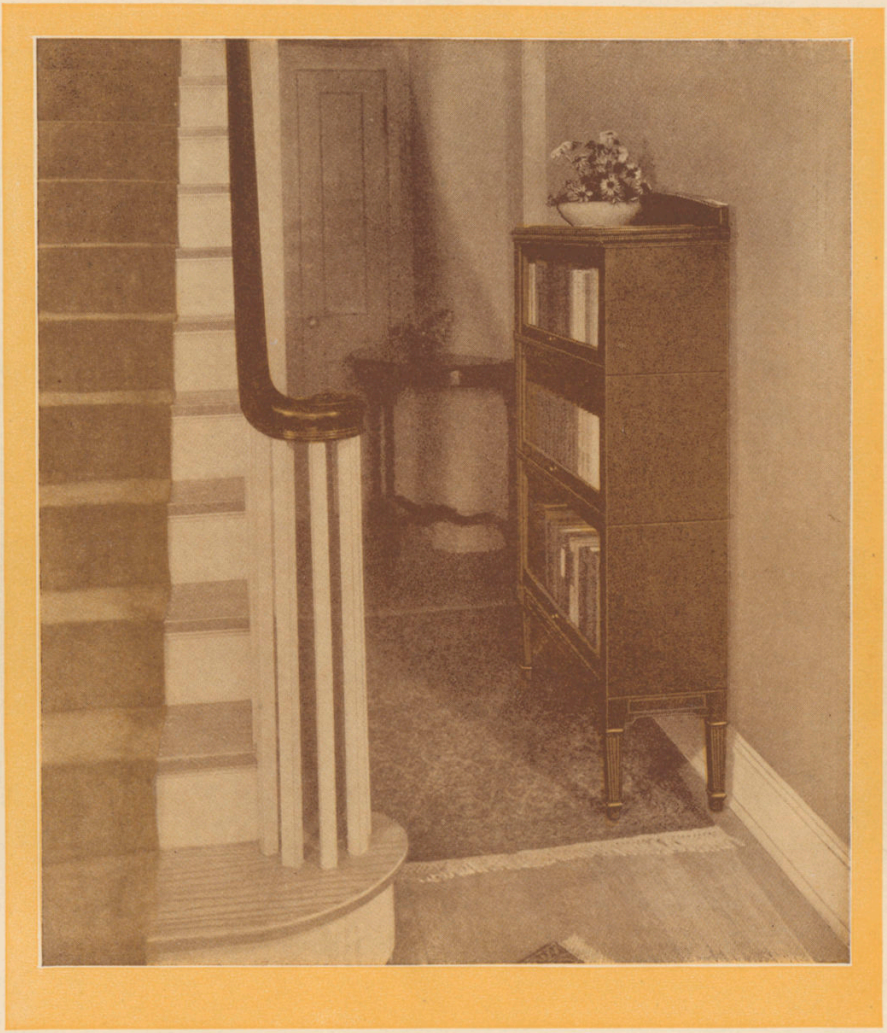
BOOKCASES

TO help make homes populous with books is but one of the many roles of Globe-Wernicke Sectional Bookcases. They now enter the Sun Room as decoratively and conveniently as the Wicker Furniture—to hold magazines and such things that usually collect there. Bed rooms are finding them delightful to keep innumerable personal belongings like shoes—out of sight and free from dust. And how ideal they are for Cabinets in the bathroom! There's always plenty of room in them. Casing the Radio; protecting while displaying fine China and Glass; keeping sewing things in order; storing pantry and kitchen things—these are just a few of the many new uses Globe-Wernicke Sectional Bookcases are put to.

Globe-Wernicke Sectional construction adapts itself so readily to every kind of space—to massed or single groupings. And in their Period and Modern designs and various finishes, Globe-Wernicke Sectional Bookcases harmonize with any room's furnishings.

Even painted furniture can be matched—as the Globe-Wernicke Sections are now available in their natural, unfinished wood so that you may paint them yourself to go with other furnishings, or form a gay spot of color in some room.



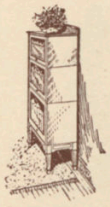


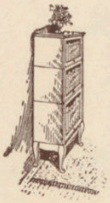
THE ENTRANCE HALL

You'll feel the homelike atmosphere, and a more friendly welcome, when Globe-Wernicke Sectional Bookcases greet you in the Hall.

The bookcase pictured is the new mahogany Hepplewhite design which truly carries out the motif of that period.

For details as to sizes and prices of individual sections, see descriptive list at the end of this book.





The Music Room

In the Music Room the Globe-Wernicke Sectional Bookcase takes its logical place as a cabinet for radio, music rolls, books on music, etc.

The above illustration shows a front view of the handsome new Hepplewhite Bookcase.

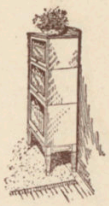
For particulars as to measurements and costs of individual sections, see descriptive pamphlet in the back of this booklet.

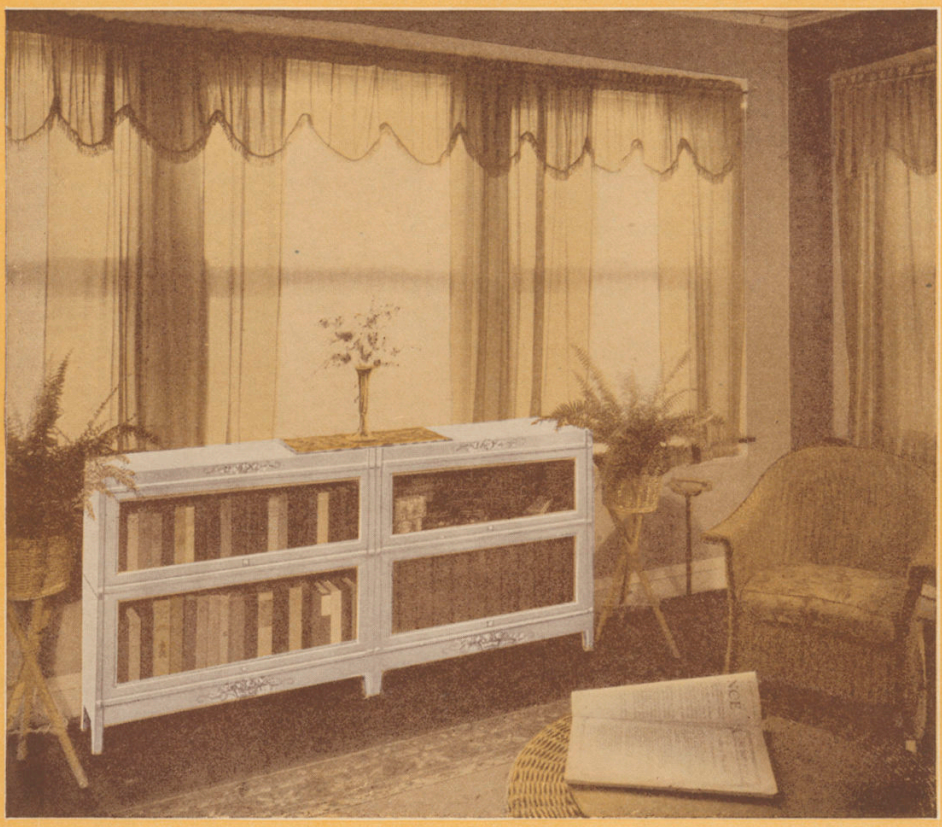
A Louis XV Living Room

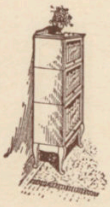
Radio and Reading—a whole evening's enjoyment right at your elbow, in Globe-Wernicke Sectional Bookcase.

The Louis XV Bookcase shown is a new design in mahogany true to the period it represents.

For particulars as to measurements and costs of individual sections, see descriptive pamphlet in the back of this booklet.





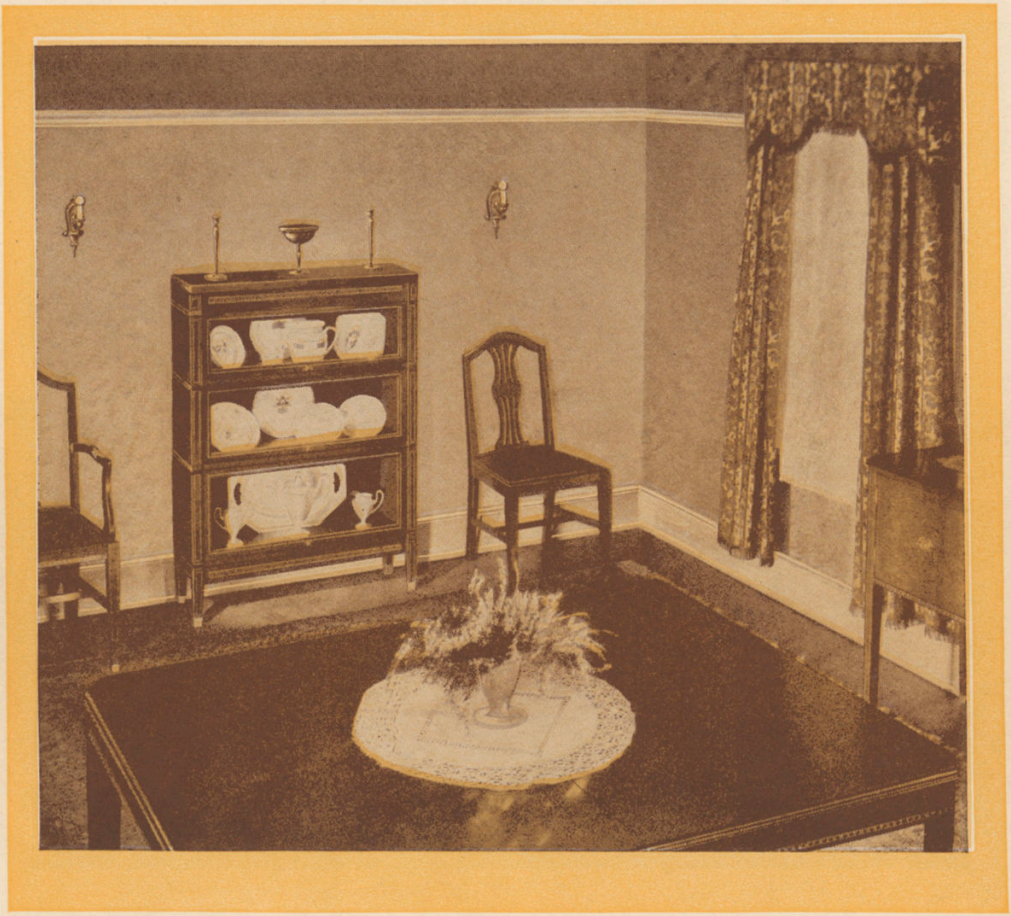


THE SUN PARLOR

Books, newspapers, cards, smoking equipment—and all the other little things that collect in the Sun Room, are kept in order in Globe-Wernicke Sectional Bookcases.

The Universal Bookcase shown above may be had in various finishes or unfinished to be painted as illustrated.

For detail description and prices of separate sections see pamphlet in the back of this booklet.

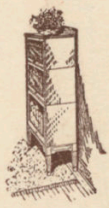


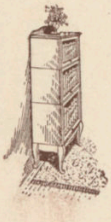
THE SHERATON DINING ROOM

Potteries and porcelains—china and silver! Globe-Wernicke Sectional Bookcases are the happy solution for their display and safe-keeping in modern Dining Rooms.

The beautiful Sheraton design bookcase shown above is ideally suited for this purpose.

For details of size and prices of individual sections, see descriptive pamphlet in back of this booklet.





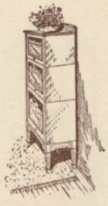
The Library

A homelike library, the heart of the home, becomes even more inviting when Globe-Wernicke Sectional Bookcases house your books. Quickly and easily you are enabled to rearrange these cases to suit your desires.

In Two Groupings

The above illustrations show the same room attractively arranged in two different ways.

For descriptive details and prices of individual sections, see pamphlet in the back of this booklet.

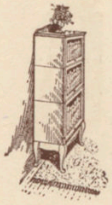


THE BATHROOM

Soaps, medicines, towels, toiletries and other Bathroom necessities fit conveniently into Globe-Wernicke Sectional Cabinets.

The Economy white enameled sections pictured make an especially handy bathroom cabinet.

For descriptive details and costs of individual sections, see pamphlet in the back of this booklet.

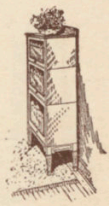


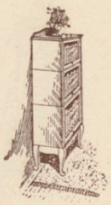
THE BEDROOM

A convenient place to put your shoes—a handy desk—a space for books. That's one adaptable combination in Globe-Wernicke Sectional Bookcases for Bedrooms.

This Universal combination may be had in different finishes or unfinished to be painted like your bedroom suite.

For further description and prices of individual units, see pamphlet in the back of this booklet.



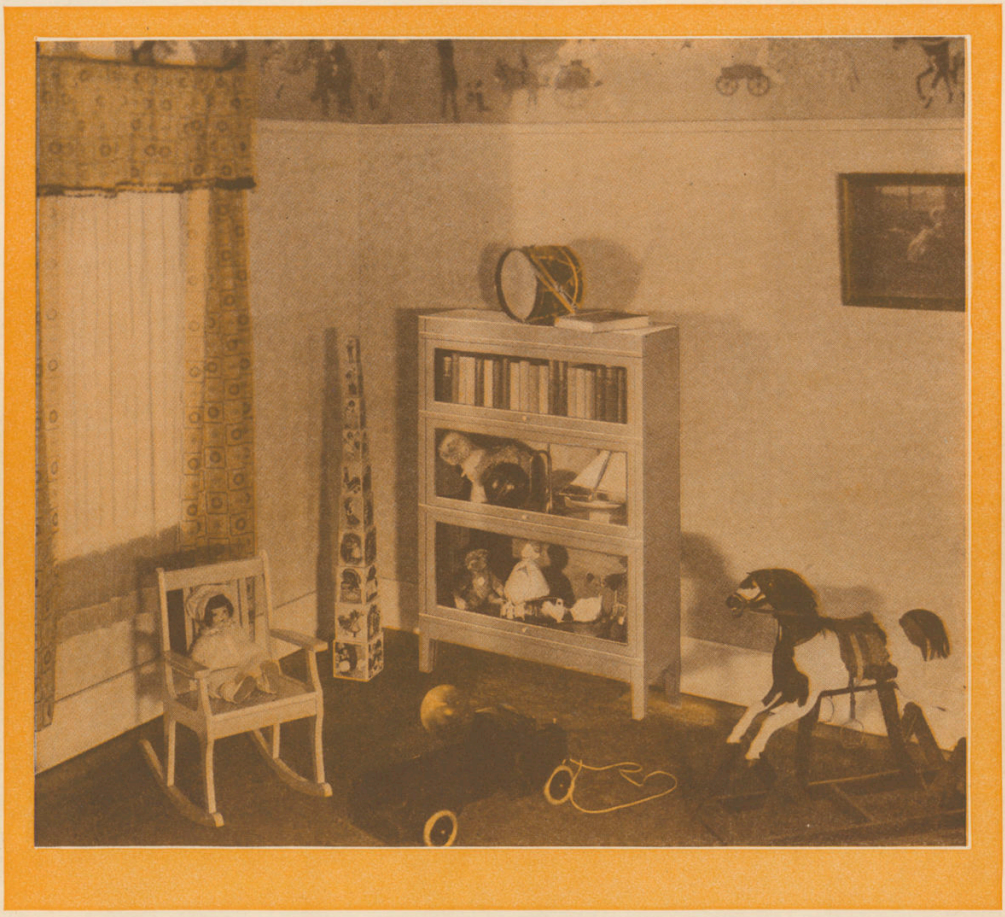


THE SEWING ROOM

Right there before you when you want them—but happily out of your thoughts until then—are your patterns, fashion magazines, materials and a hundred and one other sewing things that Globe-Wernicke Sectionals keep so orderly.

The sections shown are the Universal which may be had in different finishes, or unfinished to be painted as in the illustration.

For more complete details of sectional sizes and prices, see pamphlet in back of this booklet.

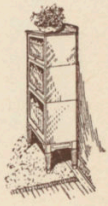


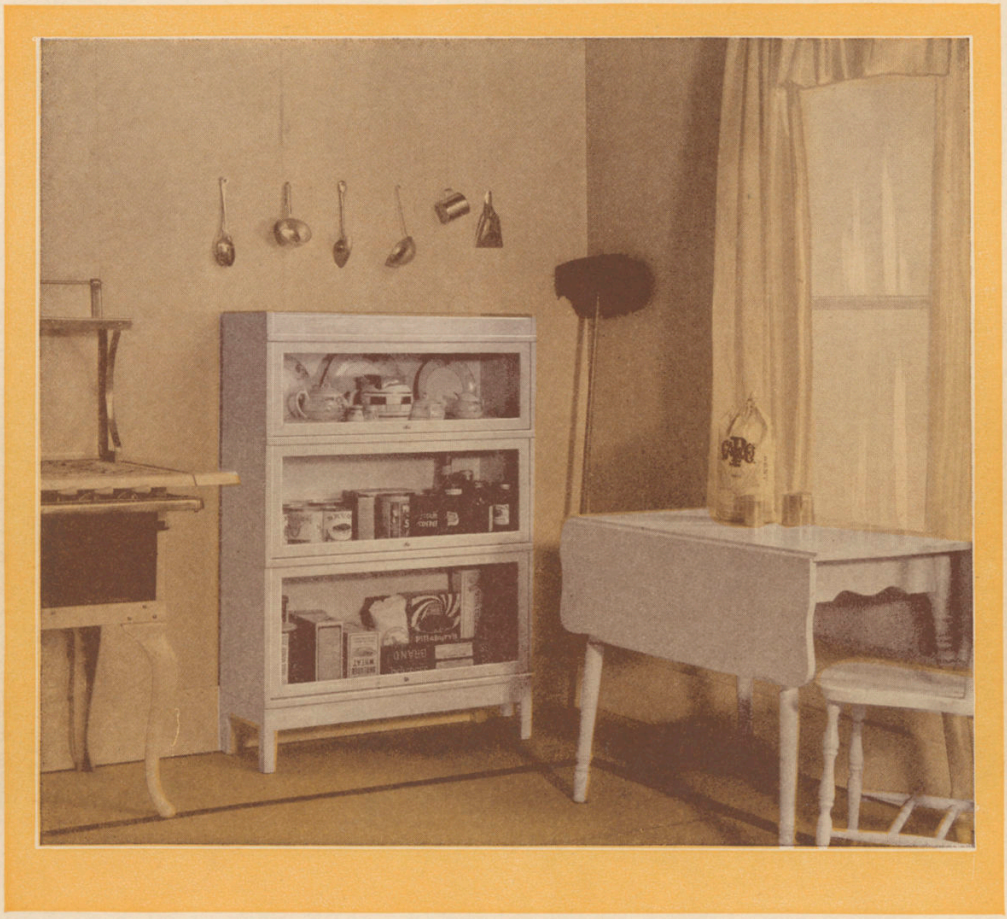
THE NURSERY

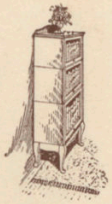
Globe-Wernicke Sectional Bookcases now enter the Nursery as the safe-keeping place for all the toys and books children love.

The attractive ivory painted case shown is a Universal which may be had in various finishes or unfinished to be painted, as illustrated.

For more complete details concerning sectional measurements and prices, see pamphlet in the back of this booklet.







THE KITCHEN

The ideal kitchen cabinet to hold and protect china, glassware and food stuffs—a Globe-Wernicke Sectional.

The white enameled Economy sections illustrated, are just the thing for this purpose.

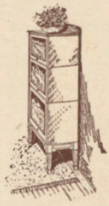
For further particulars as to sizes and prices of individual sections, see pamphlet in the back of this booklet.

THE PANTRY

Real protection for china, silverware, glassware, breakfast foods, etc., is now afforded in the Pantry by Globe-Wernicke Sectional Cabinets.

The enameled white Economy sections are recommended for this use. They may be had with frosted glass or wood panel doors at slight additional cost, if desired, or gelatine paper may easily be applied to the regular glass panels.

For further details on the measurements and prices of the individual sections, see pamphlet in the back of this booklet.



As new uses for Globe-Wernicke Sectional Bookcases develop, their sectional construction allows them to expand.

As desire for change urges you to move your furniture around to give variety to a room's appearance, Globe-Wernicke Sectional Bookcases fit right into any scheme. Their sectional arrangement simplifies the moving—and suggests new groupings to fit into small or large spaces.

Glass doors that slide easily, quickly out of sight when opened, give free access to the cases even in very narrow spaces—and when closed, protect perfectly from dust and dirt.
